A Romance of the Days When the Lord Redeemed the Children of Israel From the Bondage of Egypt

By Elizabeth Miller

"There is no escape in the choosing of the tens now, Rachel. I have said that I would not vex thee again with my love. Once I offered thee marriage as refuge. My love and the shelter of my name are thine to take or leave. I will urge thee no more."

He paused for a space, and, as she made no answer, he went on as though she had rejected him explicitly.

"Then I shall hide thee somewhere in Egypt. The use is not secure, but it may serve."

She sat up and put the hair back from her face.

"Thou good Atsu," she said in a voice subdued with much weeping, "wilt thou add more to mine already hopeless indecision to thee? Art thou blind to the ill use thou invest upon thee own head in thy care for me? Let me impart thee no more. Is there no other way?"

He shook his head. Slowly her face fell, and she sighed for very heaviness of spirit. Atsu stooped and took her hand.

"Make ready and let us leave this place," he said kindly, "and thou shalt decide in the seclusion of Memphis what thou wilt do. Lose no time." He turned away and, signing to Deborah to follow him, left the tent.

Rachel rose and began her preparations to depart. The formidable blockade in the way to safety seemed to clear, and her heart leaped at the anticipation of freedom or stopped at the suggestion of failure. She hastened slowly, for her excitement made most of her movements vain. Her hands trembled and held things insecurely; she forgot the place of many of her belongings in that humble, orderly house. Alternately praying and fearing, she stopped now and then to be sure that the sounds of the camp were Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of the kidneys. This unpleasant condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

wait patiently in Memphis for an appropriate hour to visit Masarrah. He paced hither and thither, hung himself on the benches in the shade, only to rise and resume his uneasy walk. Anubis, the pet ape, was omnipresent and particularly ungovernable. If his young master were in motion he vibrated and oscillated like a shuttle. If Kenekes sat, he paced the tessellated pavement slowly and with a footfall lighter than a bird's. The sculptor eyed him understandingly and finally arose.

"Come, Anubis! Tit, tit, tit!" he called, backing toward the workroom. Anubis bounded after him, but as Kenekes paused just over the threshold the ape also halted. His master retreated to the rear of the room, still calling, but to the ape there was something portentously familiar in this proceeding. It hinted of imprisonment. Turning as though pursued, he disappeared up an acacia tree, from which he could not be dislodged. With a vexed exclamation, Kenekes passed out of the court into the house, slamming the swinging door so sharply that it sprang open again after him. As the old portress put back the outer doors leading into the street that her young master might go forth, a shadow quick as thought slipped out after him. The old portress clapped her hands with a shrill command, but the ape was gone.

Once more in his workday dress, his wallet of tools and provisions across his shoulder, the young sculptor passed toward the Nile, moody and unhappy, but determined. At the river side he hired the shallow bari that had given him faithful service for so long and, receiving the oars from Sepet, the boatman, prepared to push away. At that moment Anubis, tremulous, but unrepentant, bounded in beside him.

Kenekes made a landing below the stone wharf, for there a two oared bari was already drawn up, and the tangle of herbage was a safe hiding place for his own boat. He looked toward the quarry and hesitated. He had no heart yet to face her who had laid his cruel sorrow on him. He would continue his work on Athor until he had gathered assurance from that unforbidding face.

His light foot made no sound, and he entered the niche silently. Kneeling on the chipped stone at the base of the statue, her face against the drapings, her arms clasping his knees, was Rachel. In one hand was the collar of rings. She had not heard the sculptor's approach.

For an instant his surprise transfixed him. Had she repented? A great wave of compassion and tenderness swept over him, and he drew her face away between his palms. With a terrified start, the girl turned a swift glance upward. When she recognized Kenekes her fearful face colored vividly. Her posture was such that she could not rise, and with infinite gentleness he lifted her to her feet.

"What is it, Rachel? Art thou in trouble?"

Joy and maidenly confusion took away her voice.

"Alas," he went on sadly, "am I so fallen from thy favor, shut out and denied thy confidence?"

"Nay, nay," she protested. "Think not so harshly of me. I am—I came"—she faltered and paused. He did not help or spare her. He had come to learn why she had done this thing, why she had said that and why she had repulsed him without explanation, when there was unmistakable preference for him in her unstudied acts. He held his peace and waited for her to proceed. Meanwhile Rachel suffered cruelly. She had no thought in her mind concerning her conduct toward him. It was the shameful event of the morning, which must be told to explain her presence before Athor, that made her cover her crimson face at last. Kenekes silenced the protests of his gallantry and, drawing her hands away, lifted her face on the tips of his fingers and waited.

While they stood thus Deborah, exhausted and praying, staggered into the inclosure.

"The serving men—thou art pursued!" The fat courier, purple of countenance and breathing hard, appeared in the opening. Rachel shrank against Kenekes, and Deborah dropped on her knees between the pair and the wayward.

"Out of the way, hag!" the man puffed. "Let me at you slave. Out!" He struck at Deborah with a short mace, but Kenekes caught his arm and thrust him aside.

"Go—go back to the camp," he said to the old woman. "No harm shall befall Rachel." Raising her, he put her behind him and advanced toward the courier.

"Hast thou words with me?" he said coolly. "What wilt thou?"

"The girl. Give her up!"

"Nay, but thou art peremptory. What wilt thou with her?"

"For the harem of the Pharaoh's chief adviser," the man retorted.

The blood in Kenekes' veins seemed to become molten; flashes of fierce light blinded him, and his sinews hardened into iron. He bounded forward and his fingers buried themselves in soft and heated flesh.

The first glimmer of reason through his murderous insanity was the consciousness of a rain of blows upon his head and shoulders and a blackening face settling back to the earth before him.

He released his grip on the throat of the straining courier and flung off his other assailant. For a moment, stunned by the hard usage at the hands of the re-enforcing men, he staggered and seemed about to sue for mercy. The men pursued him to finish their work, but, as he eluded them, it seemed that a third person—a woman all in white with extended arms—came into their view.

Emperor of Japan Expresses His Gratitude to Roosevelt.

A MESSAGE OF THANKS

For the High Part the President Played Japan's Ruler Shows Grateful Appreciation.

Warm Praise For Disinterested Efforts in the Interests of Peace and Humanity.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 4.—President Roosevelt has received from the Emperor of Japan the following message of thanks and appreciation for the part played by the President in the negotiations which have resulted in a cessation of hostilities in the far East:

"Tokio, Sept. 3, 1905.—The president: I have received with gratification your message of congratulation conveyed through our plenipotentiaries and thank you warmly for it. To your disinterestedness and unselfish ting efforts in the interests of peace and humanity I attach the high value which is their due and assure you of my grateful appreciation of the distinguished part you have taken in the establishment of peace based upon principles essential to the permanent welfare and tranquility of the far East.

The cablegram from the Japanese emperor puts an end to the rumors that the emperor was dissatisfied with the terms finally concluded by his plenipotentiaries with those of the emperor of Russia. The concluding sentence of the cablegram is especially significant. It evidently voices the belief of the Japanese emperor that the treaty about to be concluded at Portsmouth will be for a permanent peace.

It can be said that the president has expressed no anxiety at the delay of the cablegram from the emperor of Japan. It was known here that the terms finally concluded at Portsmouth were dictated by the Japanese emperor himself and that they could not be otherwise than satisfactory to him and his advisers.

Curtain About to Ring Down on the Last Act at Portsmouth

TREATY IS COMPLETED

All That Remains Now Is For the Plenipotentiaries to Affix Their Office at Signatures.

Interesting Details Attending the Important Work of Engraving the Treaty.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The seventeenth and concluding article of the treaty provides that the exchange of ratifications shall occur within fifty days after its signing by the plenipotentiaries. If the Russians are ready the treaty will be signed this afternoon at 5 o'clock, this date having been suggested by Baron Komura. Otherwise the treaty will be signed Tuesday morning.

Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 4.—The peace treaty between Russia and Japan has been completed. The last revision of the earlier drafts has been made and there is nothing now to be done except for the secretaries to complete the engrossment of the treaty and for the envoys to formally attach their signatures.

The plenipotentiaries and the attaches of the two missions seem to be fully as anxious for the curtain to roll down on the final act of the drama as the little colony of newspaper correspondents and summer guests who are waiting to be "in at the death." The work of engrossing the treaty is now all but completed.

Mr. Rojstvensky doing the calligraphic work of the French and Mr. Adashi of the English text. Controversies over the phraseology still continue and several conferences have occurred between Mr. De Martens and Mr. Dennison, differences being referred for adjustment to the principals. The Japanese are proving great sticklers for words. They cling tenaciously to their ideas. Careful preparation and methods have been the secret of their successes on land and sea and in their diplomatic struggles at Portsmouth the same qualities have been displayed.

In the sittings of the conference Baron Komura always stated the Japanese position upon a given point briefly but with great care, and when Mr. Witte, whose method was entirely different, would try to draw out explanations he would stick doggedly to the statement he had made. Mr. Witte, a man of affairs, resourceful and talented as he is admitted to be, had his case in his head. He never brought any papers with him. He never brought any papers with him. He never brought any papers with him.

Baron Komura on the other hand could with the greatest difficulty be induced to enter the region of argument. He stuck to the brief before him. Speaking always quite slowly he would repeat over and over again what he had stated as if he had learned his lesson by rote. Several times Mr. Witte would say: "Yes, I understand perfectly what you say, but what do you mean, what is your real object?"

Then Baron Komura would go back and restate his proposition almost exactly as he had done originally. Both systems had their advantages. By insisting, insisting, insisting, Baron Komura would sometimes catch Mr. Witte off his guard and provoke him into statements which were always eagerly seized upon. As a final resort Baron Komura was always ready with a written solution of a question and would produce it suddenly, saying: "This is what we propose. What have you got to offer?" Then the value of preparation and foresightedness was apparent. Mr. Witte seldom had a crystallized corner proposition to make. But on the other hand, whenever Mr. Witte succeeded in leading his adversary into the realm of argument where previous preparation prevailed nothing, he had Baron Komura at a disadvantage.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Thousands Attracted to National Meeting at Denver.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 4.—The thirty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began in this city today. The city is crowded with guests and heavily loaded trains are arriving from all directions. Members of the local executive committee persist in their belief that the coming encampment will be the largest in the history of the organization.

At the headquarters and in the lobbies of hotels already is heard the discussion of the election of officers and the place of the next meeting. There are five candidates for the office of commander-in-chief, namely, Corp. James Tanner of New York, Robert Brown of Ohio, Col. Borroughs of New Jersey, ex-Congressman Charles Burton and Gen. George A. Stone of California. The cities are in the race for the 1906 encampment. They are Chattanooga, Tenn., Columbus, O., Minneapolis and Buffalo.

Some of the important business to be considered by the encampment in its secret sessions, which begin on Thursday morning, will be proposed changes in the constitution and recommendations to the congressional committee. The latter will be asked to endeavor to have congress pass a new service pension bill that will have no age limit. One proposition is to pension the veterans of the civil war, whether injured or not, on a per diem basis; that is to say, a certain amount for each day of service.

BOMB IN BARCELONA. Engine of Death Explodes in Crowded Street in Spanish City.

Barcelona, Sept. 4.—A bomb exploded with terrific force on the marine parade, which was thronged with holiday makers. A panic ensued and the air was rent with the shrieks and groans of the victims who numbered more than forty, including one woman killed and five persons mortally wounded. The bomb was conical in shape and was covered with cement. The perpetrator of the outrage is unknown. One witness states that early in the morning a child was seen to deposit a bomb at the foot of a tree, while another version is that the bomb was placed at the foot of a tree in the afternoon and that the man who was seen to place it there was injured by its premature explosion.

Often leads to poverty. No real woman ever sold her heart for the luxuries of life.

But many a woman who has gladly faced poverty for the man she loved, may well doubt her wisdom when pain becomes the mate of poverty. If she were rich, she thinks, she could find a way of cure.

WHO MAKES SCHOOL LEVY.

Last Thursday night the school board reported to the city council the tax levy made by the school board for the tuition and special school funds. The council took the liberty of cutting the tuition levy from 25 cents to 22 cents and the special school fund from 35 to 33 cents on each $100 of taxable property. The question was raised in the council meeting as to the authority of the council to interfere with this levy and the question has been discussed more or less since in a friendly spirit. Some contend that the school board makes the levy independently of the council while others argue that the council levies this tax.

It seems to us that the law makes it plain that the school board makes the levy and certifies the same to the county auditor who puts it on the tax duplicate. The city council has no authority over this levy at all that we can discover in the law and the supreme court has construed the law holding that this authority rests entirely with the school board. Reporting the levy to the council is only a matter of courtesy and not for the council to act upon at all.

If the levy placed at 22 cents for tuition and 33 cents for special will yield sufficient revenue the school board should not make it more than that. But if that levy is insufficient to meet the legitimate expenses of the schools it should be more for the community can not afford to have the schools suffer because of an insufficient levy.

DIED.

BAUGHMAN.—Miss Nellie Baughman died Sunday morning, September 3, at 4 o'clock at the age of nineteen years and one month, after an illness of a little over two months. A cold caught in the spring developed into more serious lung trouble from which she suffered very much and which was the cause of her death.

Nellie was born in Seymour and has lived here all of her life. Her father, Enoch Baughman died about two months and a half ago after a long illness. Her mother, Mrs. Jennie Baughman and one sister, Carrie, survive her. Since her father's death she has been staying at the home of her uncle, J. W. Pomeroy on north Walnut street.

She was a young girl whose whole life was beautiful. At home, at school, at church, wherever you found her she was the same dignified, reserved girl and was at all times pleasant and kind to those around her. She joined the Presbyterian church some years ago and was also a member of that Sunday school and of the Light Bearers Mission Band. She graduated from the Shields high school just this year and has been in very poor health ever since commencement week. She was studious and very painstaking in everything she undertook and had planned to take a business course and lead a useful life and make her own way through the world. The bereaved family and relatives have the sympathy of all who knew Nellie and can understand what their loss is.

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the residence of J. W. Pomeroy, 410 north Walnut. Rev. Dr. G. W. Shields will be in charge of the services. Burial at Riverview.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches And Pains Will Disappear If The Advice Of This Seymour Citizen Is Followed

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Seymour women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. S. A. Gibson, of 306 East Second street, says:—"As far as my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills is concerned I can highly recommend them. I was troubled with pains over the loins and my back was weak and lame. I also had depressing headaches, pains in the back of my neck, was nervous and restless nights and morning felt more exhausted than when I went to bed. Doan's Kidney Pills sold by Mr. Milhous the druggist cured me of all these symptoms. I found them very easy to take and they caused no inconvenience while their quick and positive action gratified me highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

COMPETITION CLOSE.

Carnival Queen Contest Getting More Interesting.

Votes for the Queen of the Carnival are now coming in in large numbers and everyone is talking and wondering who will finally be given the honor. The contest has narrowed down to a comparatively few names and between these the contest is very close and all anxiously await the outcome. The contest will close at 12 o'clock, noon next Wednesday. Every ballot box will be closed exactly at 12 o'clock that day. Bring your favorite to the front and vote for her today.

Through a typographical error the vote of Helen Gates was reported in this paper yesterday as 239 when it should have been 339.

The vote at noon today stood as follows:

"Myrtle Baker.....491
"Hattie Niemeyer.....421
"Hazel Stevens.....233
"Helen M. Gates.....541
"Elsie Aufderheide.....254
Miscellaneous Votes.....8
The ballot boxes are at F. H. Gates' store, Cox's Pharmacy and Abel's grocery. Watch the vote from day to day and you will likely do some voting yourself.

ECZEMA

ITCHES AND BURNS

The return of warm weather means a return of torture to Eczema sufferers. The blood is charged with burning acids and acid matter which is forced to the surface through the pores and glands, forming pustules which discharge a sticky fluid, and the itching is intense.

The doctors said I had pustular Eczema; it would break out in small white pustules, mostly on my face and hands, discharging a sticky fluid; crusts would form and drop off, leaving the skin red and inflamed. I was tormented with the itching and burning characteristic of the disease for five years, and during the time used various medicated soaps, ointments and washes, but these applications seemed to make me worse. After taking S. S. S. a short time I began to improve; the itching did not worry me so much. I continued the medicine, and soon all the ugly eruptions disappeared and my skin is now as clear as anybody's. I have not been troubled with any breaking out since. Urbana, O.
E. E. KELLY.

Sometimes the disease is in the dry form, and bran-like scales form on the skin, but the cause is the same—humors in the blood. Salves, cooling washes, powders and the like can do nothing more than relieve the itching, because they do not reach the acid-laden blood, the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Eczema and all skin diseases by neutralizing the acids and carrying them off through the proper channels. When S. S. S. has done this the symptoms pass away, the blood is cooled and the disease is cured permanently. Nothing acts so promptly or surely in skin diseases as S. S. S., and it at the same time acts as a tonic to the entire system. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice without charge.

Boy's Sudden Death.

Millard Hoover, son of Sam Hoover of Cincinnati, died at his home there about seven o'clock Saturday evening after a day's illness. He had been here visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hoover, and was taken sick Friday. On Saturday morning a doctor was called and said that the boy had typhoid fever in one of its worst forms and had better go to his home at Cincinnati. The boy and his little brother left here on No. 2 Saturday afternoon and on reaching Cincinnati was taken to his home and died within a very short time.

He was a young boy sixteen years old and was employed with Mabley & Carew at Cincinnati. He has had poor health all of his life and had a very poor constitution which accounts for death resulting in such a short time and the fever was in its worst form, although the boy tried to keep from showing how sick he really was. The remains may be brought here for burial.

Fine Sermons.

Struck Water Crane.

Sunday morning Engineer Walter Lemon had an accident at Mitchell that might have resulted more seriously. His head came in contact with a water crane at the cement plant cutting a gash in his head that required four stitches to close. A physician at Mitchell waited on him after which he came to his home here Sunday forenoon on No. 4. His injury is not considered dangerous, yet it will be some time before he can go back to work.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

INTERESTING CONTEST.

Indianapolis Municipal Campaign Attracts Much Attention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—Charles A. Bookwalter, Republican candidate for mayor, plans to open his campaign with a big mass meeting at Tomlinson hall about Sept. 10 or 12. He will deliver a speech carefully outlining his position. The speech will take the place of the usual letter of acceptance and is expected to arouse great enthusiasm among his followers. He is now devoting all his time and energy to preparing for the campaign and to all outward appearances is more confident than ever before. The contest here will probably attract more attention from politicians throughout the state than ever before. The Democrats outside are especially anxious for Holtzman to win this time, believing that victory here would inspire the party workers with hope and cause them to start into the state campaign next year with renewed courage. From a party standpoint a Democratic victory was never more desirable. The Republicans will probably not be so much concerned over the effect of the result on the future of the party as they are well organized and apparently more strongly entrenched in state affairs than ever before.

Will Ade, of Kentland, brother of George Ade the famous author and playwright, may become a candidate for the Republican chairmanship of the tenth district. It is said that Will Ade is busy these days investigating the money his brother George receives from his plays and fables and he may conclude that he hasn't time to devote to the "grand old party's" interests if business keeps up for the literary member of the family. He has invested a large amount for his brother in Benton and Newton county farm lands, which are among the garden spots of Indiana. One of the men who is urging him to become a candidate for district chairman says that he is so jealous of George's interests and so anxious for him to place his easy money where it can't get away that George says he makes him keep an expense account and turn it in regularly for his inspection. That, however, is probably some one's tale, but it is said that Will Ade has been a very shrewd investor for his brother and is naturally very proud of his success. He is regarded as a conservative business man and will probably be a very formidable candidate if he runs.

Newton Booth Tarkington, the well-known Indiana author, is here visiting his parents. He and Mrs. Tarkington will leave tomorrow for Capri, off the coast of Italy to remain for an indefinite period. Tarkington will work on new plays, but he declared emphatically that he will not attempt to dramatize any more of his books. The suggestion that he might attempt to strike him as funny and he was evidently enjoying a hearty laugh at the failure of "The Gentleman From Indiana," as a stage character. He would give no hint as to what his plays will be like except that they will be comedies. "The Gentleman From Indiana," contrary to expectations failed to make a hit behind the footlights and it will probably not be revived this season.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of the "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidney, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. For sale by W. F. Peter Drug Co.

How Is Your Heart?

Is your pulse weak, too slow, too fast, or does it skip a beat? Do you have shortness of breath, weak or hungry spells, fainting, smothering or choking spells, palpitation, fluttering, pains around the heart, in side and shoulder; or hurt when lying on left side?

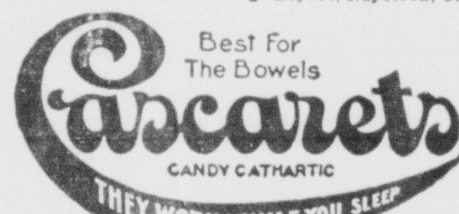

If you have any of these symptoms your heart is weak or diseased, and cannot get better without assistance. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure strengthens weak hearts, and rarely ever fails to cure heart disease. Try it, and see how quickly you will find relief.

"About January 1st, 1902, I took down with weakness and dizziness, and gradually grew worse. I was told by my family physician that my case was hopeless. My neighbors and family had given me up to die. My limbs and body were swollen to one-third larger than normal size, and water had collected around my heart. For at least three months I had to sit propped up in bed to keep from smothering. I sent for five bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, and by the time I had taken them all I was entirely cured. I feel better than I have for twenty years, and I am able to do any kind of work on my farm. My attending physician told me that if it hadn't been for Dr. Miles' Heart Cure I would now be in my grave."

FATE IN DOUBT.

Portion of Crew of Wrecked Lake Steamer Probably Lost.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 4.—Five men who left the wreck of the steamer Sevona in a small boat are believed to have been lost in the furious gale that has been prevailing on Lake Superior. Another boat containing eleven people, including four women passengers, reached shore after battling with the heavy seas all Friday night, during which time all suffered terribly from cold and exposure. Six members of the crew, including the captain, two mates, two wheelmen and a deck hand, are still on the wreck and it is feared they may succumb before assistance reaches them.

The Sevona, which was bound from Allouez to Erie with a cargo of iron, ran ashore during the gale Friday night on York Island, far out in Lake Superior. Soon after striking the boat broke in two, the after end sinking in deep water. Two boats at once put off from the doomed craft.

Warsaw, Ind., Sept. 4.—Miss Hattie Foster, twenty years old, who was shot three times by her suitor, John Mauzy, twenty-four years old, is still alive, although in a critical condition, and the doctor has only small hopes of saving her life. If she dies Mauzy will be charged with murder in the first degree.

Mauzy stated that he had intended to end Miss Foster's life for a month past, but failed to get an opportunity before. PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Indiana Jails Offer Little Resistance to Determined Effort.

Rushville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Oliver O. Jones, ex-cashier of the defunct Arlington bank; Obadiah Bowman, held on a charge of embezzlement at Carthage, and a Pollock, charged with burglary, made their escape from bondage by sawing two steel bars in a window in the second story of the county jail, crawled through the hole and descended to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet, by means of a rope ladder made by rolling two blankets together and winding a stout cord around them. The escape was made very quietly, as none of the other prisoners in the jail knew anything about the time when they got out.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Fred Birchfield and Cooper McKinsey escaped from the city jail here Saturday night. Birchfield was charged with forgery and McKinsey with grand larceny.

Quietly Tunnelled Out.

Babb's body was found later in the cornfield with a bullet hole in the forehead. Wilkins refuses to give any motive for the shooting.

KIDNEY DISEASES CAUSE ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL DEATHS.

When the Kidneys fail to perform their functions properly by not straining out the poisonous waste matter from the blood as it passes through them, the poisons are carried by the circulation to every part of the body, deranging the different organs. This causes heart trouble, stomach trouble, sluggish liver and a host of other ills, all due to deranged Kidneys.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

corrects irregularities and cures Kidney and Bladder diseases in every form, tones up the whole system, and the diseases that have resulted from disordered Kidneys disappear, because the cause has been removed. Commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at the first sign of danger. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes.

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mr. Robert G. Burke, Elmore, Saratoga Co., N. Y., writes:—I am glad to have an opportunity of telling what magnificent results I have had from using FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE after having tried other advertised medicines and several physicians. Before I began it I had to get up from 12 to 20 times each night to relieve my bladder. I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired that I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. In fact, I was so badly used up that I had given up hope of living when I was urged by a friend to try FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders, and before I had taken the third bottle the superfluous flesh had gone, as well as all other symptoms of kidney trouble. My friends were surprised that I was cured, as they all thought I was going to die. Every few days some one comes from miles away to learn the name of the wonderful medicine that cured me of Bright's Disease, and not one that has tried it has failed to be benefited.

Two Sizes, 50 Cents and $1.00.
